Rotary Bed Planer.

A detailed black and white illustration of a Rotary Bed Planer, a large industrial machine. The machine features a heavy, flat bed supported by a sturdy frame. A large flywheel is visible on the side, and a hand crank is attached to the top. The machine is shown in a three-quarter view, highlighting its complex mechanical components and robust construction. The illustration is set against a background of stylized, wavy lines, suggesting a rough or uneven surface being processed by the machine.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. S. J. Pickard read the 144th Psalm, it being called the Crusade Psalm, as it was the one read at the first meeting when the temperance movement started in the West. A fervent prayer was offered, followed by singing.
 The President then addressed the meeting in well chosen remarks. She was followed by members of the Club and Crusade, interspersed with singing.
 Mr. Eldridge, pastor of the Second Methodist, made very interesting remarks. The meeting was one of interest and continued until about midnight.
 EVENING SESSION.
 The evening session opened at half-past seven, with singing by the choir, under the direction of Mr. Barnby, Mrs. Davenport at the organ.
 Prayer was offered by Rev. Geo. W. Field; the Secretary, Mrs. S. J. Pickard, read a very interesting report from Rev. Mr. Barnby, who had just returned from a full of kind wishes for their future success. She then read the report for the year. This was followed by the report of the the church, and a strong desire to continue our meetings, believing that there are echoes going from them, floating through the ether, and that the angels are listening and sympathizing until some heart is reached and turned to duty.

Our prayer meetings are held every Wednesday afternoon, at the Reading Room, Franklin street. These meetings are followed by prayer meetings, to which all are invited. It is not often, however, even felt that these hours of prayer are a support, strength and guidance in the world.

The public meetings, Friday evenings, under the care of the Crusade, has ever been a feature of the work, and one of the important features of the work. Being a free meeting, all can have access and perhaps feel more at home in City Hall than in any other place. It is not necessary to go to obtain new speakers or introduce any new feature in these meetings to make them more interesting. The meetings are so good and so pleasing to the heart, that we do not mind the trouble to ourselves.

A gospel temperance meeting is held at the City Hall, every Wednesday evening, by the Reform Club, under its auspices. These meetings are well attended and a truly christian spirit manifested. Our only regret is that we could accommodate all who come.

Our method of raising money to carry on our work is by the collection of contributions, leases and yearly subscriptions from those who feel thus disposed to help.

David L. Rice, of Pownall, formerly of Lewiston, recently received back pension money amounting to $2,047. There is no doubt that he will use it wisely, in paying and settling old debts, to furnish creditable employment to the pension agent.

A. C. Evans has been awarded the contract for carrying the United States mail between Bridgton and Portland, and Clay's Point, Maine, and between Bridgton and Brownfield.

There is quite a large force at the Naples cork factory making cans for the Portland market. They are putting up about 100,000 cans of sweet cork and succotash at that factory the present season. The factory is owned and continued charge of Mr. J. H. Barbarek.

A few days ago a couple of Portland boys without leave took a boat, belonging to the United States navy, and sailed for a short time, and after rowing about in it for some time, one of them started to take it back to the wharf, and was stopped by George Carey, reached the wharf, he found Capt. Maxwell in a high state of indignation. He called and beat the boy and fined him $10. The other boy was fined $5. Young Carey could not swim and came near being drowned. He had sunk twice when he was rescued. Killed a spunk, and the water and rescued him. The boy was threatened with brain fever from the fog. He was taken to the hospital, and after a long struggle, Judge Knight, and fined $10 and

The Rev. Geo. W. Field then addressed the meeting in his happiest manner, followed by Rev. S. L. B. Speare, Mayor Strickland, Mr. Montgomery, of the Club, Mr. H. H. Smith, and Mr. J. H. Smith. Mr. Hall, President of the Club, made brief remarks, yet they were of much interest because so earnestly given, as indeed were all the others, this being a decided feature of the meeting. The singing was excellent and appropriate. We believe the seventieth anniversary will ever remain a bright place in our temperance journey.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Mrs. Frances M. H. Grimes:
Time who records all our acts, our work, our purposes, even, upon his indelebtable, has just written the figure Seven, and while he thus writes, the angels are singing, "Seven is the number of faces lost over the figure and whisper softly and gently." I write seven years of patient, faithful labor for the temperance work, for this is written above me.

We do feel, this night, as we present our seventh anniversary, that we have accomplished much as was promised and fulfilled in the Scriptures by seven years of patient serving and trust, that we had been able to do much more, had it not been for the overthrow of the liquor traffic, and that tonight it might be a jubilee and all could join in the grand chorus of "Peace on earth and good will to men."

We may not be able to bring as many

City Hall, which has been put custom for several years.

Very much entertainment was given by Messrs. Rice and Lovell, the proceeds of which they very generously donated to the Crusade, and it was gratefully received by the committee. The next evening, the next; this was a success financially, and we trust it met the approval of the public.

The Crusade also had an excursion to Camden the last of August; this was so well patronized that quite a sum was added to our treasury, after paying all expenses.

The collection taken Friday evening, is to go to the janitor of City Hall and the organist.

We wish to be plain and explicit to the public, for it is to them we are indebted for the success of our work. We have awarded the merited praise for upholding the work which is blessing so many homes as to those who are more actively engaged.

We have many calls from the needy and suffering, made so by strong crick; put them in our hands, we try to relieve according to our means.

The Reading Room in which we take our meetings, is one of the best in the city among the first good institutions of our city. The expense of running the same is borne equally by the two organizations, and we are enabled to give the best. We have secured the services of our faithful janitor, Mr. Corson, for another year, a user whose services are being long and who, after the room is laid open for inspection, will

Messenger.

Rev. Mr. Bates, rector of the Episcopal church in Halesboro, has been assigned to the Waterville mission by the Bishop.

The proprietors of the Kennebunk and York County line will have a new boat on the route from Augusta to Boothbay, by the first of July, to supply the place of the old one, which was recently sold.

Street Commissioner Cottle is now using some one hundred and fifty loads of gravel to fill up the old street between the city to grade a portion of the highway, between Augusta and Hallowell, just north of the "plains."

The report submitted by the city treasurer, for the year ending August 1, is in an excellent condition financially, notwithstanding the heavy indebtedness. The receipts for the year ending August 1, were $139,400.65, the disbursements, $139,400.65. There is a balance in the treasury, $2,533.87. During the fiscal year ending August 1, 1892, the city has received from the State, $1,008.34 for the police and fire department; $3,263.41 for the fire department; $40,001.33 for salaries of city officers; $1,000.00 for the city engineer; $183.11 for printing; $1,614.36 for lighting; $18,523.17 for support of the streets. The cost for the street cleaning is within the limits of the city in regard to snow, and for improvements, has been $11,779.40.

Those interested in the cotton factory, entered by Mr. Gardner, had another conference with Mr. Dyer, the engineer from

The tears of the sorrowing, blighted boys and girls, the dark spots of homes, starving children, misplaced trust, manhood and womanhood shown at its glory—no traffic, but yet have no power to move these people who want to regulate these things judiciously.

And when we have a heart, or starve a child, or blight all that is pure and lovely, judiciously?

And when who will, in these times of enlightened christianity, talk of a judicious license on a people who will lustre to such false sophistry.

Our work of the past year we find the first step taken was to petition the school board for the introduction of liquors into our public schools. This was a partial success, as whether much or little is the result, it was a step in the right direction.

Believing it to be our duty to still make common effort in behalf of the children, we furthermore, holding what we termed the children's meeting, saving to the children the last Friday in each month, endeavoring to interest the little ones to take part in the children's meeting, and to tell of their feelings while the pure principles of temperance are laid before them placed in contrast who have aided and encouraged us in the past year.

Squire and Axell, who have stood ready to help in our meetings, notwithstanding their own arduous duties.

Geo. W. Field, who has recently donated so many good volumes to our library.

Mrs. W. B. Hayford for her services to our papers and magazines, and to all others who have furnished reading matter for our readers.

We are glad to find that our Mayor, Mr. Strickland, in his three months in regard to temperance, has been successful in making the children at home and in school, moral suasion, and removing the temptation to which we add, let every citizen do his duty and the work soon accomplished.

Suppose some morning the news came that an enemy's fleet were in our bay, they would be driven from the bay, and the city and our homes would be destroyed. Would there not be some excitement among our people?

Would Narrow-Boat Fort Knox is there. Her guns are in position, in splendid working order, with all the munitions of war.

"There is not a man at Fort Knox to do his duty. There must be men behind these guns, if the fleet is to be stored.

"There is no traffic—there must be men to do their duty if the evil is to be wiped out.

We Have Just Received

tended and we trust it may prove one of the profitable and pleasant features of the good work.

We received instruction that they might not otherwise get, so we trust the good seed thus sown may in time bring forth a harvest.

The devotional meetings at the jail are conducted by the Crusade, every other Sabbath, as in the case of the other churches. We distribute books and papers to the inmates and endeavor to point them to a higher and better life. Many instances have been noted where the results of these ministrations, or resolutions formed there and kept for nobler aims and higher purposes have been realized.

Many of the inmates of our jails get there through the use of strong drink. Some are weak, possessing sympathy inherited as it were from their fathers, and are hard for them to fight for. We must remember the children's teeth are set on edge by the grapes of the devil. Some are ignorant and some are but obeying the master who said, "For I was sick and in prison and ye visited me." A kind word and a gentle touch will do much.

"If only a cup of cold water given in my name, it shall be blessed."

Only a gentle, kindly word will do much.

Let the love letters break.
And let the flowers of sinling.
Then words of praise from a suffering tongue:
"It is a soul rescued."

In December, we extended an invitation to the members of the different churches to unite with us, at City Hall, in work for a principle of right, and in God's time the victory will be given us.

At the time of the late Mr. Hays, during her four years in the White House, by bauchling liquor from her table upon all occasions, she was the cause of the loss and esteem of all the temperance people of our land, and wishing to perpetuate this example the National Union, by a resolution, she was made the forerunner of this lady to be painted and hung in the Presidential Mansion.

The Crusade sent twenty dollars to this cause, and the influence of one in the first position of our land should have all the honor it is possible to bestow.

It becomes our duty to share the death of one of our sisters the present year. Mrs. Mary E. Savary, Mrs. Myra Dunham and Mrs. Mercy Heath. From the death of Mrs. Heath, we learn that neither were with us and remained true and faithful to the last. Their memories we shall ever cherish and we shall give them such holy incentives to lead us on in the work.

To our brothers of the Reform Club, who have stood by us so long, we are ever ready to encourage and assist us, and in many instances rendered such assistance that our efforts have failed. Let us then consecrate ourselves to further united effort.

To our daily papers of our city, Bangor Whig and Commercial, we extend many thanks, for their kindness in printing so
